LOWILL

Lowill is a company of Lorenzi Group, specialized in offering multimedia products and services.

We design and create multimedia audio, video and lighting installations for any event (corporate, entertainment, sports, outdoor, indoor, etc.), but we are also great golf fans.

PLAY GOLF

THE CONNECTION BETWEEN LOWILL AND GOLF

Golf is concentration, precision, experience, endurance and foresight. All features that reflect our values: assistance, competence, creativity, excellence and innovation.

As a result of this bond, we have committed ourselves to creating a custom-tailored golf room equipped with Trackman Professional Golf Simulator, the latest technological tool designed for both professionals and fans of the sport.

Start training sessions; monitor numerous technical data in real time; participate in digital tournaments with connected players from around the world; play on the most stunning international fields... where? Directly and comfortably from home or from your company!

PLAY LIVE

TRACKMAN PROFESSIONAL SIMULATOR

Trackman Professional Golf Simulator is the most technologically advanced tool available for indoor golf play, whether at home or at work, at any time of the day.

Practicing golf is possible at any time, whether alone or with friends, to train or play in real tournaments. Regardless of the weather, you can still make the most of your time and avoid depending on course reservation.

Developed for sport professionals and fans, it enables you to improve your game technique providing an incredible level of simulation.. In addition, it allows you to measure the ball's swing and flight at a three-dimensional level in real time.

The software monitors 21 measurements to display data with millimeter accuracy. (club head speed and trajectory, flight height and distance, club face position and loft at impact, swing trajectory, angle of attack, hit distance, error amount, ball speed, just to name a few).

ADVANTAGES OF HOME INSTALLATION WITH DEDICATED GOLF ROOM CONFIGURATION

Installing a Trackman Professional Golf Simulator at home or in a company has numerous advantages.

- Overcome adverse weather conditions, which inhibit playing (cold, rain, snow, heat, darkness), taking advantage of the comfort of your home or your company and training at the perfect temperature.
- Maximize your time by taking advantage of every free moment without depending on course reservation or car transportation. You have the option to choose from the most beautiful and prestigious courses worldwide every time.
- Train every day, enjoy yourself, engage in games with friends, or compete in virtual tournaments with other golf professionals.
- Improve your technical and sport performance. Each game session's results are recorded and stored by Trackman professional golf simulator. This enables you to constantly measure and monitor your performance, tracking your progress and analyzing your game level in detail.
- Valid working tool for teaching.

WHAT WE CAN ACHIEVE TOGETHER

We put technology at the service of your passion for golf, whether at home or in the workplace. System integrators and audio/video services enable us to guide you along the path:

- Custom-made design carried out following careful inspection;
- Realization of a dedicated golf room, complete with everything (laser projector, touchscreen, soundproofing, sound and light system, cooling and heating, putting green, etc.) and equipped with Trackman Professional Golf Simulator;
- Constant assistance from qualified technical staff to ensure the perfect functioning of the installed equipment.

THE EXPERT OPINION!

'The experience offered by Lowill's Trackman is both realistic and immersive. The difficulties of a real circuit are faithfully reproduced, with useful statistics to enhance swing after swing. By recording every training session, you can assess your level of play in detail and track your progress. It's a useful tool for enjoying yourself – whether alone or with friends – but especially for improving your skills.'
